

TRiO Upward Bound Tutoring Expectations

Upward Bound tutoring assists students in the TRiO Upward Bound program to elevate their level of preparedness in and out of the classroom. Students will have tutors to assist them in completing homework, class assignments, or projects. Students will also work on organization, backward mapping for long range assessments and assignments, assist peers with academic coursework, prepare for exams (HSAs, PSAT, SAT, ACT and PARCC), and meet with their Upward Bound coach.

- Students will check in to tutoring before going to an athletic practice, club or another classroom for additional help.
- Student will sign in to tutoring.
- Students will inform his/her Upward Bound coach ahead of time if he/she is leaving early or will miss tutoring.
- Students will have their planner and write down their assignments each day. The student will also record long range due dates like assessments and projects.
- Students will remain respectful to all tutors and other Upward Bound students during after school tutoring.
- Students will not have electronic devices out during tutoring. (Students may listen to music during tutoring but must listen without texting).
- Students that do not have something to do for their classes will complete an activity from the list of alternative options for tutoring time.
- Students will be productive in tutoring to promote their overall academic success.
- Students will log into StudentVue with their coach to discuss academic progress and set goals a minimum of once a month.
