

Program Name: History, AA	Outcomes	HIS 101, History of Civilization I	HIS 102, History of Civilization II	HIS 201, American History I	HIS 202, American History II
Program Outcome #1	1) The student will be able to evaluate different types of sources to determine their credibility and will demonstrate the ability to interpret them in an organized and creative form.	1) Identify and evaluate primary and secondary source materials and demonstrate an understanding of their historical context and relevance; Recognize bias and its impact upon the value of the source; Extract valid and valuable information from the source.	1) Demonstrate the ability to evaluate and utilize primary sources. 2) Demonstrate the ability to analyze secondary sources through the identification of important themes and author bias; critically evaluate the arguments presented in the source and demonstrate the ability to formulate alternative interpretations.	1) enhanced reading comprehension 3) basic historical research methods	The students will be able to gather source material and produce an acceptable research paper with primary and secondary sources. They will be also be able to evaluate the materials they use and explain their strengths and weaknesses.
Program Outcome #2	2) The student will be able to identify important themes and historical trends and evaluate their historical significance and relevance to current events, modern culture and ideology.	2) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	3) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	4) ability to recognize major themes in writing and major trends in thinking	Ability to recognize major themes in writing and major trends in thinking
Program Outcome #3	3) The student will demonstrate knowledge and understanding of cultures outside of those in which they live and identify the historical problems created by failures to accept diversity.	2) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	3) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	5) identify and appreciate divergent points of view	Analysis of motives and appreciation of divergent points of views will all be gained or enhanced by the demands of the course.