

Program Name: History, AA	Outcomes	HIS 101, History of Civilization I	HIS 102, History of Civilization II	HIS 201, American History I	HIS 202, American History II
Program Outcome #1	1) The student will be able to evaluate different types of sources to determine their credibility and will demonstrate the ability to interpret them in an organized and creative form.	1) Identify and evaluate primary and secondary source materials and demonstrate an understanding of their historical context and relevance; Recognize bias and its impact upon the value of the source; Extract valid and valuable information from the source.	1) Demonstrate the ability to evaluate and utilize primary sources. 2) Demonstrate the ability to analyze secondary sources through the identification of important themes and author bias; critically evaluate the arguments presented in the source and demonstrate the ability to formulate alternative interpretations.	1) Analyze and evaluate primary and secondary sources; demonstrate knowledge of the sources' content, identify bias, and express critical opinions of the validity of the author's argument. 2) Demonstrate the ability to think critically about a specific historic event based upon the examination of a variety of source materials	1) Evaluate and utilize primary and secondary source material to write a research paper that makes a clear historical argument.
Program Outcome #2	2) The student will be able to identify important themes and historical trends and evaluate their historical significance and relevance to current events, modern culture and ideology.	2) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	3) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	3) Recognize important trends and themes in United States history and demonstrate the connection between historic foundations and current events.	2) Recognize important trends and themes in United States history and demonstrate the connection between historic foundations and current events.
Program Outcome #3	3) The student will demonstrate knowledge and understanding of cultures outside of those in which they live and identify the historical problems created by failures to accept diversity.	2) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	3) Recognize important trends and themes in human cultural, economic, political and ideological development; Identify and evaluate the impact of these historical trends upon global development.	4) Recognize the unique contributions of coerced and voluntary immigrants to the American nation.	3) Recognize the ways in which the broadening of American democratic traditions reflect citizen's tolerance of diversity.