The screenshot shows the homepage of the Learning Support Center Resource LibGuide. At the top is a navigation menu with links for Home, Writing & English, Math, Science, Nursing & Health, All Subjects, LSC Staff, and Help. Below the menu is a header image of a study room and a welcome message: "Welcome to the Learning Support Center Resource LibGuide!". The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column, titled "Services and Materials", describes academic support services and lists computer systems available. The middle column, titled "Online Tutoring", includes links for "Online Tutoring", "LibGuides", "LibGuides by Subject", and "Campus Computer Systems" with sub-links for "Password Problems", "Printing & PaperCut", "Registering for Workshops", and "Using Microsoft Office 365 for FREE". The right column, titled "About the Learning Support Center", features a "Click to chat" button, contact information (LSC Location, Phone, Email, Website), and "Online Hours" for Monday through Saturday.

The screenshot shows the "Writing Assistance" webpage. It has a main heading "Writing Assistance" and a sub-heading "Online Writing Tutoring". The text describes professional writing tutors available for online hours. Below this is the "Online Writing Center" section, which offers emailed help with writing assignments. A link "Submit your Writing Online" is provided. At the bottom, it states that the LSC only responds to emailed papers on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and that responses are provided within 48 hours.

The screenshot shows the "Library & Learning Support Center Chat" interface. It includes a dropdown menu for "Library & Learning Support Center Chat". The main text states that the William M. Brish Library wants to help find resources. There are two "Click to chat" buttons: one labeled "Ask a Librarian" and another labeled "Ask the LSC".
